Axia Technology Partners (AXIATP), a leading national provider of converged IP solutions today announces a new contract with Midwest-based CPA firm, Blue & Co., LLC.

Indianapolis-based Blue & Co., LLC is ranked the 56th largest CPA firm in the U.S. and provides quality business advice, consulting assistance and compliance services to clients via their eight offices throughout Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio. As a leading regional CPA firm, Blue & Co., LLC is consistently looking for ways to improve communications for both clients and employees.

The firm plans to utilize AXIATP's voice over internet protocol (VoIP) telephony services as well as fiber optic communication services to connect their locations in order to increase the firm's reliability, network capacity and survivability. This increased network capacity will also enable the firm to push more of their core accounting applications to the cloud for additional cost and reliability benefits. Further, completing this transition enables Blue & Co., LLC to have complete survivability in the event of a branch or multiple-branch outage.

"AXIATP provided a complete and cost effective telecommunications solution for us," said Rick Patrick, Blue & Co., LLC. "We are looking forward to working with a local company who brings a top tier offering but more importantly, a service first mentality."

AXIATP provides converged IP solutions with broad and industry-leading service offerings of nationwide VoIP phone services, enterprise and call center PBX solutions, wide area network connectivity and Internet access that create all-encompassing, cost-effective and customized communications solutions.

"We're honored to be selected by Blue & Co., LLC as their total telecommunication provider," said Tim Shrout, COO of AXIATP. "We're excited to share a business partnership with a nationally recognized CPA firm who shares our core values."
