Indianapolis, IN, March 16, 2016 --(PR.com (http://www.pr.com/) )-- Axia Technology Partners announced today that TMC, a global, integrated media company, has named Kerauno as a 2016 Unified Communications Product of the Year Award winner.

Kerauno is an enterprise-level Unified Communications platform that delivers anytime, anywhere, any device business connectivity. With features including Active Directory support, softphone client integration, and industry-leading call reporting functionality, Kerauno provides businesses with the communication tools they need to optimize workflows and increase productivity. In addition, the REST-API enables integration with virtually any third-party software, including proprietary business systems.

"Kerauno has been disrupting the Unified Communications software market since its release in January 2015, and receiving this type of recognition from TMC validates that we are on the right track," said Jason Ross, Managing Partner at Axia Technology Partners. "We have deployed Kerauno across a number of verticals including banking, healthcare, education, transportation, and SMBs, and we are seeing that the flexibility of the platform is limitless."

Kerauno has seen steady, quarter-over-quarter growth for Axia Technology Partners since its release in January 2015, including a 300 percent increase in deployed licenses since the third quarter of 2015. The software platform was also recognized earlier this year as "Best in Show" in the Cloud Solution category at ITEXPO, the world's leading business technology tradeshow.

"It gives me great pleasure to honor AxiaTP as a 2016 recipient of TMC's Unified Communications Product of the Year Award for their innovative product, Kerauno," said Rich Tehrani, CEO, TMC. "Our judges were very impressed with the ingenuity and excellence displayed by Axia Technology Partners in their groundbreaking work on Kerauno."
